ABOUT THE TRAINING

Human rights education and training comprises all educational, training, information, awareness-raising and learning activities aimed at promoting universal respect for and observance of all human rights and fundamental freedoms and thus contributing, inter alia, to the prevention of human rights violations and abuses. The very first objective of human rights is to protect human beings from any kind of discrimination and injustice all over the world. The second objective of Human Rights is to develop individual self-respect. The third objective is to value human dignity. Education, training, and information intended to promote an universal culture of human rights are all considered to be sources of human rights education. A thorough education in human rights not only gives knowledge of those rights and the measures that keep them protected, but also the abilities necessary to advance, defend, and use such rights in daily life. The attitudes and behaviours required to uphold human rights for all members of society are nurtured by human rights education..
